THE OPERA HOUSE DRAWING -The subscribers to the Crosby Opera House Art Association scheme are now almost on the eve of the drawing and the are now almost on the eve of the drawing and the wheel, which may interaily be called the great wheel, will soon decide into whose fortunate hands the Opera House properly is to pass. The drawing itself is by no means a small affair. Think of the Committee of Ten with the 210 000 numbers to count, 21,000 for each; the labor necessary to prepare them; the thousands in every State who on January 21 will watch for the telegram which shall announce the lucky man, woman, or child who shall become the owner of the Opera House. We have no doubt there will be a full house on that occasion, and that every seat will be taken; that the audience will be an appreciative and enthusiastic one; and that the turning of the great whose of fortune will be returning of the great wheel of fortune will be regarded with more interest than ever the opera, the concert, or the lecturer has excited. Probaby no event which has ever happened in Chicago has been regarded with so much personal interest as the con-rammation of this great scheme. First interest is not confined to Chicago. It is national. On that day thousands will be looking to Chicago. Let the success, therefore, which has thus far crowned all the efforts of the managers, be made still more com-plete by securing to Mr Crosby as large a surplus as possible. Do not delay get ing your tickets unti you find yourself just a day too late.

CAMBEN AFFAIRS.

CONCERT AT THE COURT HOUSE.-Last evening a concert was given at the Court House for the benefit of the Camden Home for Friendless Children. The Minerva Glee Club sang some popular airs in a very creditable manner, and the Camden Brass Band discoursed some patriotic and operatic music. Addresses were delivered by Hon. James M. Scovel and Hon. G. H. N. Custis. The present immates of the Home number 27; sixteen boys and eleven girls. The Home is in a very prosperous condition, and reflects great credit on the managers, Mr. Sweeney and wife. Nearly one-half of the children are soldiers' orphans, and the heart swells with gratitude to God to think that, while their fathers have gone to their long home, their children are falthfully provided for.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.—A man named Sullivan, confined in the County Prison, made his nith attempt to escape on Monday evening by sawing a par off the gate which leads to the Sheriff's kitchen, while he was at supper. The Sherif, returning unexpectedly, caught him at it, and immediately, with the assistance of some officers, handcuffed him. He previously had shackles on but they had been removed. They were put on, again and riveted by a blacksmith. There is a German confined in the prison who informs the Sheriff whenever he hears any noise. Sullivan swore he would kill him it ever he got released—the man, it appears having informed on him once or twice before.

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT .- On New-Year's Eve the congregation of the African Methodist Church, in Sycamore street, above Noiris, assem-bled for the purpose of worshipping God, were set upon by a gang of roughs, and many were compelled to jump out of the windows to escape being shot. The windows of the church were broken and the pews mutilated. One man was shot, and another, with a wooden arm, had it broken to pieces. No arrests were made.

ROBBERY.-The house of Mr. Fish, on the Burlington turnpike, near the Bethel Church, was entered on Monday evening, and robbed of a lot of ctothing and a small sum of money. No arrests were made.

THE PRILADELPHIA SCHOOL OF DESIGN AS AN ART GALLERY AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUrion.—But comparatively few of our citizens know that within their very midst there exists an institution which, as an educational institution of learning, comprising an art gallery, cannot be surpassed. The Philadelphia School of Design, incorporated under the authority of this State, in the year 1855, is now located on the corner of Filbert street and North Penn Square. We had the pleasure, yesterday, of visiting this institution, and were agreeably surprised in finding ourselves ushered into rooms filled with all manner of fine arts. Entering the main parlor, we find ourselves in Entering the main parlor, we find ourselves in the midst of casts from the antique, and casts from marble of the middle ages and more modern times. The collection is large, embodying the masterpieces of ancient and modern authors. Among these, we find the celebrated groups of "Laocoon and his Sons" and the "Boxers." Of the statues, the most prominent are the "Venus of Milo," "Venus de Medici," and the "Fighting Gladiator." All of these specimens, comprising a large number, were imported from the British Museum, and are the art studies for those attending the Institution. art studies for those attending the Institution. Here is contained, also, the productions of the merit, especially the drawings of life size, exhibiting the highest degree of artistic skill in production. Of paintings in the galleries of this School, the collection is extensive, embracing all manner of views, laudscape, marine, and copies from nature, all being the work of the ladies in the institution.

The system pursued in study is the very best to produce the result desired, that of educating women in the art of drawing, painting, modeling, and designing for manufactures, and seeking to make these branches of public education. Each student entering the school is at once put through a gradational course, commencing first with drawing, and studying from casts of geometrical figures. Then advancing to drawing from casts of years, from groups, from ing from casts of vaces, from groups, from details of architectural ornaments, then to that of landscape. These are the initiatory steps to painting ornaments from easts, from the antique, from figures of life, landscape from nature, drapery, and best composition.

The institution is under the very able manage ment of T. W. Braidwood, Principal, and has new in attendance more than sixty ladies, who come from all parts of the United States, a number of whom are engaged by the scientific associations of the city to make drawings of articles for catalogues. Night classes are being formed for males; and those who desire to advance themselves in the sine arts should not fail to attend.

This institution possesses sixty-three moulds and eventy-two engraved blocks, for casting and printing examples used in the school. The financial report exhibits a large investment in the establishment, and its present firm standing. The building used is owned by the institution, and its four stories are filled with the finest specimens of all that is beautiful, artistic, and grand. Our friends should not fail to visit it. The exhibition remains open until Friday even-The exhibition remains open until Friday evenng, after which the school will resume its BURGLARS FOILED.-Last night an attempt was made to enter the store of Messrs, Smith, Williams & Co., wholesale dealers in her ery, etc., in Market street, between Third and Fourth streets. There were three burglass in the gang, and whilst one was operating the other two waited outside. They had succeeded in forcing the outer door, in the rear of the store, from its hinges, and, laying it saide, out out a large piece of glass from the sash of the inner door, and thus effected an entrance. But they had hardly got inside when they were disturbed the police. Those watching warned the operator by whistling, and the whole party scat-tered in various directions. One ran through Audson street into Chesnut, another ran through McRae's tavern and into Third street. They all succeeded in making their escape. Nothing wataken from the store.

A SAVAGE AND UNPROVOKED ASSAULT. -About 10 o'clock last night, as Jacob Coller a young German, was walking along Richmon street, above Cumberland, he was assaulted in a most brutal manner by a man named Barney McNamee. The latter tripped Coller up, and as he fell, struck him, and then continued the assault after he was down, blacking his eye and breaking his lower jaw. McNamee was arrested, and Coller was taken by Officer Oakes and Sergeant Murray to a drug store in the vicinity, where his wounds were dressed, and was then taken to his residence in Cherry street, near Richmond. McNamee had a hearing before Aiderman Clouds, who held him in $1000 bail to appear at Court. PICKPOCKET ARRESTED .- Yesterday afterprickpocker Arrested,—I esterday inter-noon a gentleman from the country stepped into one of the many saloons in Water street, near Market, to see the sights. He saw them, and when turned to leave he found he had paid rather more for his sight-seeing than he had bargained for, as some light-singered member of the community had relieved him of the charge of his pocket-book. He instantly gave the alarm, and soon after a suspicious person named Theodore Shaffer was arrested, and the stolen pocket-book was found in his possession. He was taken before Alderman Williams, and, after a bearing, was held in $1000 to answer the charge of larceny.

BORROWING RAIMENT .- Yesterday afternoon a rather shabby looking pair were ob-served near fifth and Market streets, carrying with them a large bundle. Pancying he saw something unusual in the r behavior, a police officer accosts t them and asked what they had. Not giving a satisfactory answer, they were both taken into custody, and were taken before Alderman Godbou. They confessed that the bundle, which proved to be washed clothes—sheets, shirts, etc.—was taken from the vard of a house near Poplar street. They were held in $800 ball each to answer the charge of larceny.

PETTY POLICE MATTERS,-Barney Mc-Glaughlin was arrested at Eleventh and Locust streets, on a warrant from Alderman Beitler, charging him with subornation of perjury, yes-terday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. He had a preliminary examination, and was held for a further hearing. The Harbor Police fished a man out of the dock at the toot of Meade street yesterday at ternoon. He had walked overboard whilst in a state of intoxication, and had it not been for the efforts of the officer be would have drowned.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY. - At an early hour this morning an officer tried the window of the provision warehouse of Michener & Morris, at the S. W. corner of Front and Willow streets, and found it unfastened. He entered the store to see if all was right, and found that the store to see if all was right, and found that it had been entered by burglars. They had filled the key-hole of the safe with gunoowder, all ready for blowing it open, but the trying of the window disturbed them at their operations. They had evidently escaped at the rear.

Suspicious,-Last night a watchman named Urian found a young man named Hutchins, alias Jones, secreted under a bed in his house, No. 1205 Market street. He had evidently got in the house during the day, and secreted himself, with the evident intention to commit a robbery. He had a hearing before Alderman Jones, and was held in $800 bail to

The thieves had evidently placed something over the opening to the front door so as to occeen their operations from outsiders. A stoot was found near the door, and this confirms the supposition that the goods were passed to some one on the optain.

A private watchman named James Morrisons employed by Mr. Holimashea i, in connection with other parties res dine in the neighborhood, but why be failed to discover the thieves it is difficult to conjecture. Information was left with the Detectives this marning, and as a discription of the goods has been furnished, there ill be great difficulty in the robbers disposing

AN INTERESTING RELIC-AN OUR DI-LOMA.—The Rev. Sernice D. Ames, speaking of Philadelphia institutions of learning, gives the rhinadelphia institutions of learning, gives the following interesting history of an old diploma to a lady in this city. It reads as follows:

A SELL.-A huge joke was last night perpetrated on certain officers, which was the cause of no small amount of ebullition of wrath on the one side and merriment on the other. A number of "jokers" rigged up an efficy, with face, clothes, and all the etceteras of an Irishman, and set it up against the wall of a house near Broad and Race streets. They then delegated a small boy to proceed to the station-house, who awoke the sergeant and three officers with a decading terms of the station of the three officers with a dreadul story of a dead man sitting up against a house. Immediately did the lergeant, officers, and stretcher proceed at full-speed to the scene, and there beheld the body and laid hands upon it. when-the denouement is better imagined than described. That there was no small amount of effervescing spirits, and pas-ionate ambition to punch the noddles of certain individuals, was evident from wrath then and there seen and heard. The whole makes a good "run" on those

THE FATAL ACCIDENT.-This morning a hearing was had before Alderman Jones, as to the cause of the death of Peter McKinney, by being run over last night. G. P. Litzenberg, a young man who was standing on the at the time of the accident, testined that Mc-Kinney, when the car was about six feet from him, attempted to run around the horses' heads, and although every effort was made to stop the car, which was going down a grade, he fell under the horses and was killed. McKinney was in company with his sister-in-law at the time, who called to him not to attempt to go by. Henry Bennett, the driver of the car, was held in $1500 tail to appear before the Coroner's jury to-mor-row at 11 o'clock A. M.

E LARCENY OF COAL OIL BARRELS,-Last evening a colored man named Edward Johnson stole a lot of coal oil barrels from Messrs, Kelley & Neil, on North Wharves. This morning he sold them to a man in Water street. One of the firm passing that way, recognized the barrels as his property, and had them removed. Johnson was arrested shortly after and taken before Alderman Hurley, who committed him in default of $500 bail. HEYSTERAS

LARCENY OF GOODS.—Joshua Bordley, believing himself to be in want of clothing, entered the store of John Goin, No. 410 Maria street, and appropriated to himself an amount of cloth and clothing, and made off. He was arrested on a warrant, had a hearing before Alderman Toland, and there acknowledged he had taken the cloth and pawned it. He was held in $600 bail. USEFUL PRESENTS,
